One of Law & Forensics's team members served as a court appointed special master in a multi-billion dollar case involving disputes over profit-sharing and intellectual property.

When complex E-Discovery issues concerning compliance with court orders arose in proceedings, one of Law & Forensics's team members with extensive experience and expertise in E-Discovery was summoned to hear litigation. As special master, our team member held evidentiary hearings, permitted discovery that he deemed reasonable and necessary, supervised E-Discovery, issued E-Discovery requests and subpoenas deemed reasonable and necessary on issues related to compliance, and delivered a detailed recommendation to the Court concerning compliance.

As special master, Law & Forensics's team member assisted in the parties reaching a global settlement.
