When a well-known celebrity and his wife's e-mail, EBay, and PayPal accounts, as well as their mobile phones were hacked by an obsessed fan, one of Law & Forensics's consultants was called in to perform an electronic forensic investigation of the accounts and devices in question.

The Law & Forensics consultant was recommended to perform the investigation due to his prominence in the field of high-profile mobile device forensics and background in criminal justice. After investigating the IP address of mysterious e-mails sent from the clients' account, Law & Forensics's consultant noticed a pattern. Due to the consultant's experience with US federal law enforcement agencies, he was able to trace the IP address to an employee at a research facility of the Department of Energy.

If not for the consultant's acumen and specialized background the hacker and the hacker's link to sensitive information at the Department of Energy, would have slipped under the radar.
